ABOUT ASIA BRIEFING'S CHINA BUSINESS GUIDE

Thank you for buying this book. Asia Briefing's publications are designed to fill a niche in the provision of information about business laws and taxes in Asia. Produced by the foreign direct investment practice Dezan Shira & Associates, we started this series of guides several years ago with the knowledge that much of the intelligence regarding Asia was expensive, or contradictory. Much also did not adequately address the real on the ground issues faced by multinational businessmen – the practical knowledge that must be part of the armory of any business operating in emerging markets.

China Briefing is designed to deal with this gap and is aimed at providing both the regulatory background as well as detailed information concerning Asia business with a firm eye on the practicalities of turning a profit and remaining in compliance on the mainland. Accordingly, we have tried to make this guide informative, easy to read and inexpensive. We have drawn on the experience and practical knowledge of Dezan Shira & Associates, Asia's largest independent business and tax consultancy with offices in China, Hong Kong, India and Vietnam.

This book is a window into one of the fastest growing economies in the world, providing a thorough and in-depth analysis of China, its history, key demographics and overviews of the cities, provinces and autonomous regions highlighting business opportunities and infrastructure in place in each region. A comprehensive guide to investing in China is also included with information on FDI trends, business establishment procedures, economic zone information and labor and tax considerations as well as an analysis of Chinese business etiquette and culture.

This book aims to supply the most accurate and up-to-date legal and tax regulations, information and statistics, however, China is developing fast and this information can sometimes be unreliable or difficult to obtain. GDP figures are sometimes falsified, provincial statistics often differ from national ones, and added value from new services tends to be overestimated. We have gathered statistics primarily from Chinese government sources including web sites, the official media, and other publications. While some of the individual figures may be a bit doubtful, the overall trends are pretty clear.

Contributors to this guide include: Chris Devonshire-Ellis, Joe Drury, Christian Fleming, Amanda Gan, Ronin Lin, Shirley Liu, Jennifer Lu, Joyce Roque, and Candice Zeng. The book was designed and laid out by Chris Wei and edited by Andy Scott.

At China Briefing, our motto is "The practical application of India business," we hope that you feel we have accomplished this within these pages.

With best regards,

Andy Scott
